THE FUTURE OF HYGIENE WITH THE POWER OF PROBIOTICS
100ml

Probi-spray

- The use of topical, probiotic, preparations is a rapidly growing trend in human and veterinary healthcare.
- Coat and wound treatment challenges such as odours, topical infections and skin allergies are caused by pathogens. Traditional antibiotics and antiseptics increases drug resistance.
- Probiotics developed in Belgium using Bacillus bacteria (natural and sustainable), have shown incredible results.

VETS OWN PROBI-CREAM

- Carries an international patent containing Prebiotics and Probiotics.
- Prebiotics accelerates growth of the skin's natural bacteria, thereby rejuvenating the skin.
- Probiotics “outcompetes” any pathogen contamination, and accelerates healing, improves scarring and maintains a layer of healthy microflora around the problem area.

VETS OWN PROBI-SPRAY

- Ideal way to improve hygiene and treat wounds or lacerations to the skin.
- Contains purest form of Probiotics and is completely harmless to the animal.
- Can be gently misted onto the animal from a distance.
- It is important to mist without creating too much moisture. Most effective when misted finely.

INDICATIONS:

- Wounds & lacerations – apply to cuts.
- Any skin infection or irritation of the skin or ears.
- Odor control.
- Skin allergens.
- Chronic skin conditions.
- Apply / Mist twice daily

By using antibiotics, antiseptics, antimicrobials and disinfectants you kill off both the good and the bad bacteria leaving behind the resistant bacteria (superbugs) to flourish.

The use of topical probiotics drastically lowers the pathogen count.

Fucoidans are long chain polysaccharides characterised by a complex molecular structure and varying degrees of sulfation and acetylation. In topical formulations fucoidan has been shown to impart a range of anti-inflammatory properties. In a clinical setting, it has been shown to significantly inhibit erythema and water loss from skin. It has also been demonstrated that fucoidan limits the inflammation caused by allergy and topically applied fucoidan has been shown to be as effective as cortisone in combatting allergic dermatitis.²

Dog Rocks are paramagnetic igneous rocks
(100% NATURAL Rock)

- When immersed in water, the paramagnetism creates a magnetic field with in the water causing a change in the ion exchange.
- This diminishes the nitrates that are found in the water. Less nitrates are being absorbed in to the system and coming out of urine. Nitrates are the chemicals that burn grass.
- Only affects the water not the grass.

How to use Dog Rocks:

- 1 Remove your Dog Rocks from the packet and rinse under water.
- 2 Place your Dog Rocks in your dog's water bowl then fill the bowl with 2 liters of water. Must be the main source of drinking water.
- 3 Leave the rocks in the water for 8 hours. For best results top the water at night before bed.
- 4 Replace your Dog Rocks after 2 months of use.
